ABSTRACT

Data are presented in tabular form on faculty salaries for the 1968-69 academic year, derived from salary information report by 89 U.S. medical schools. A series of 3 tables is provided for each major clinical department and for the combined basic science departments, presenting the frequency distributions of strict full-time salary, geographic base salary, and geographic total income. Base salary and total income data for geographic full-time faculty should be considered as an approximation of the annual income for geographic full-time faculty. Income based entirely on a single salary source can readily be obtained, compared, and analyzed while many complex arrangements governing the income permitted to geographic full-time faculty make data collecting and comparisons difficult. Subject: Salary Data (1968-69)

The attached tables present faculty salary data for academic year 1968-69. The data were derived from salary information reported by 89 U.S. medical schools.

A series of 3 tables is provided for each major clinical department and for the combined basic science departments presenting the frequency distributions of strict full-time salary, geographic base salary, and geographic total income. Base salary and total income data for geographic full-time faculty should be considered as an approximation of the annual income for geographic full-time faculty. Income based entirely on a single salary source can be readily obtained, compared, and analyzed while many complex arrangements governing the income permitted to geographic full-time faculty make data collecting and comparisons difficult.
